STEWARDSHIP

Celebrating New Years is a celebration of the past and the future. We take stock of the past with thanksgiving and sometimes even relief (that it's over), and we look to the future in the hope and anticipation and perhaps even worry of what it holds.

The point is that New Year's celebrations remind us of who we are as opposed to who we would like to be; what we have done in comparison to what we want to do. It reminds us of our accomplishments, but mostly it reminds us of our failures. What we've lost. Who we've lost.

New Years is our own version of Dickens' classic A Christmas Carol. And we all play Scrooge. We are visited by the ghosts of our pasts, presents, and futures.

St. Paul writes: "The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. Each one must give as he has made up his mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. And God is able to make all grace abound to you, so that having all sufficiency in all things at all times, you may abound in every good work. As it is written, 'He has distributed freely, he has given to the poor; his righteousness endures forever.' He who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food will supply and multiply your seed for sowing and increase the harvest of your righteousness. You will be enriched in every way for all your generosity, which through us will produce thanksgiving to God" (2 Cor 9:6-15).

St. Paul tells us that the Lord of all will both supply and increase what you need to give to the church for its work in and for the world. He tells us that this work that God is doing in us will enrich and bless us in every way and through this it will produce thanksgiving to God. With this in mind, here is some practical advice to help you take stock of your giving of years past, which will help you to change what needs to be changed, improved, or done away with altogether.

First, attend the Divine Service to receive God's gifts of forgiveness, life, and salvation. If you've not been faithful in attending worship to hear the preaching of God's Word, to receive forgiveness, and feast of the rich food of our Lord's body and blood for the eternal benefit of your body and soul, then repent and come to receive the gifts God freely gives. God doesn't want your money. He wants you—all of you (Matt 22:20-22).

Second, pray for the Lord's help. Your right as a Christian is to speak with your Father, the King of all creation, freely through His Son, our Lord, Jesus Christ. Go to the throne of grace and ask for strength and wisdom to follow His bidding faithfully (John 15:1-16).

Third, consider what the Church is and what the Church does. The Church is a

WHY DO OUR YOUTH DO SERVANT EVENTS

LCMS Servant Events

- Provide opportunities for Christian service to the Church and world.
- Include personal Bible study, group building, and connection with other Lutheran youth.
- Give youth a chance to live what they believe by connecting acts of service to daily life and sharing their love of Christ with the people of the world
- Take youth out of their comfort zones to experience the reality of others.

Paul wrote in his second letter to the Corinthians: "This service that you perform is not only supplying the needs of God's people, but is also overflowing in many expressions of thanks to God." (2 Corinthians 9:12)

READ THE IMPACT ON PAST SERVANT EVENT PARTICIPANTS...

In 1981, Rick made a difference at the first LCMS Servant Event, which was held at Lutheran Valley Retreat (LVR) in the mountains above Colorado Springs. Quoted in a report from the event, Rick said, "I'll go home knowing that I made a bunch of new friends and that I have a harness from God." (taken from Matthew 11:28-30, the 1981 Servant Event Bible study text.)

Today Rick says his week serving in Colorado-

"...made a lasting impression on my life. It was there I began to put my faith into action using the tools I had learned in Lutheran grade school and confirmation."

The time he spent as a teenager putting faith into action continues for Rick even now, as he serves God through his vocation as a marketing director for a Christian publisher. Rick knows the impact serving can have on youth, and recently served as one of the adult leaders of a Servant Event, taking a group of inner city youth back to LVR.

Greg is a Director of Christian Education and has been the Servant Event Project Coordinator for Fixin' Up the Thumb held in Michigan for the past fifteen years. Greg notes,

"Taking youth to a Servant Event can be powerful. Hosting a project brings God to your front door. The number one reason our congregation sponsors the Fixin' Up the Thumb Servant Event is because of the spiritual growth that occurs in high school students. In my ministry, I'm not here to be a YMCA. I can't compete with MTV. Yet, the youth continue to come because they are getting something they can't get out there. We're providing a place for the faith to be engaged. I haven't found anything that encourages spiritual growth like a Servant Event."

"Serving comes in all sizes and shapes. It makes me stretch who I am and where I am going."

Paulette, a youth servant

Her comment connects with all the youth and adult servants who come from every state to serve across the United States and in Mexico and Europe with LCMS churches, schools, camps, colleges, and social service agencies.

"We don't know at first how, when, or where the Lord may have us do His work, but often in doing it, we get a better understanding of our discipleship and the joy that comes with it."

- Andrew, another youth servant

mercy place. It inhales the mercy of the Father by the death, resurrection, and ascension of His Son through the preaching of the Gospel and the Sacraments. It exhales this mercy in love toward the neighbor. You are a member of the Church, of God's family. Thus, you are not only a recipient of God's mercy, but a bearer of that mercy for the life of the world. You spread that mercy in showing mercy through the generous giving of your income to support the work of the Church in and for the world, as the Israelites did in the Old Testament (Lev 27:1-34).

Fourth, take stock of your current giving in light of the New Testament's teaching on supporting the work of the Church. Are you giving of your first fruits, taking it out of your paycheck first, or does God get what's left over? Are you giving voluntarily and cheerfully? Are you giving proportionally and generously? The Old Testament required a tithe, ten percent. The New Testament gives freedom to be generous, to give more for the Church's work. Are you relying on God's promise to provide and increase what you need to do His work? If your answer is no to any of these, repent. If God gave you His only Son, will He not provide for you all things, even physical things? Trust Him, His Word, and heed it.

So, don't let your past define your future. Rather, commit for the year a generous proportion of your income, which is God's gift to you for this body and life.

BLESSING BAGS

I recently applied for a Thrivent Action Grant and was approved.

The Grant is to put together Blessing Bags for the homeless which has really been on my heart as we are in the cold winter season.

The bags include things like a hat, a pair of gloves, scarf, maybe some hand warmers, a water and some snacks, small bottles of hand sanitizer and lotion, chap stick, deodorant, a toothbrush and paste, Kleenex, etc. Also a small bible or devotional.

Once we have these bags assembled, we will keep them in our cars and when we see a homeless person, we can give one to them to make their life a little more comfortable.

I will put a list up on the bulletin board. Please sign up if you can bring in some of these items. My goal is to make at least 24 bags.

Please have your items here by Sunday, January 15 so I can see what additional items I need to purchase with the Thrivent money. We will then assemble the bags the next Sunday, January 22 and appreciate anyone who can help.

Thank You
Barb Yek

COMPASSIONATE CARE by Lynda Minger

This year the Ladies Posse from Trinity Lutheran Pinckney voted to assist St. Paul with their Christmas basket program. As a smaller church, we here at Trinity participate in smaller charity events, but it was a wonderful experience to be a part of St. Paul's program this year. It was especially helpful for me to see what all was involved with the program, especially how smoothly it went. It was really nice having my trinity family with me.

The food that we gathered here was taken to St. Paul where Kristin, Mike, Barb, Gretchen, Deb and myself helped to sort, count, and check expiration dates. After that it was the local girl scout troop's turn to help, sorting all the items into "baskets".

There was an impressive amount of various food, turkeys with all the trimmings, AND tin roasting pans complete with cooking instructions. 29 families received baskets which included gifts for the children.

The Myhers and I were part of the deliverers this year. I was nervous about going and yet excited at the same time. The first house I went to was a shut-in who managed to make it partway down the stairs just so she could give me a hug.

Walking away from the next house's front door to the sounds inside of "We got gifts!" was such fun! I know what Christmas is about, and I have donated somewhere every year, but I was glad that I was able to lighten my schedule and take part in this. If you have never delivered or helped with the sorting, I encourage you to do so. Nothing says "Merry Christmas" more than making someone else's special. And with a project like this, more hands using a little of their time, keeps the volunteers that lead the project energized, creates closeness in the church family, and can be downright fun!
